Change Of Management For Mobil Station

The Mobilgas Service Station at 490 Main St., formerly run by the Harrington Bros., will open Monday, April 9, under new management.

"Cleve" Blaisdell, a life-long resident of Reading, is well known as the Cleve, of Cleves Friendly Service on the corner of High St. Reading, across from the RR station. For nine years he has sold quality products and given fine automobile service at this location. Now he also will provide the same quality and service at a more convenient location for residents of Wilmington.

In addition to selling the well known Mobil products, Cleve will do minor repairs, motor tune-ups, brake service, car washing and road service.

We know the people of Wilmington will enjoy and profit from this new affiliation.

Msgr. Francis Shea Dies

Sympathy is extended to Fr. Edmund Croke on the loss of a dear friend in the death of Monsignor Francis L. Shea, 68, pastor of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church, North Andover.

Msgr. Shea and Fr. Croke served as curates together for 14 years at St. Theresa's church, West Roxbury, and formed a close friendship which has lasted through the years.

His death came as a great shock as it was totally unexpected. He had been suffering from a virus infection and was admitted to Bon Secours Hospital Saturday following a heart attack. He passed away Monday morning, April 2.

He was director of the Lawrence district deanery and spiritual director of the Lawrence District Holy Name Society.

Car Hit With Eggs

At 3:10 p.m. on Saturday, March 31, police received a complaint from Josephine Young of Patten St., Tewksbury that two boys had thrown eggs at her car at the corner of Main St., and Grove Ave. Deputy Hoban investigated the incident but the boys had left the scene prior to his arrival.

An accident which involved a truck operated by Robert Giller of Malden and a car driven by Lawrence Nesky of Medford occurred about one hundred feet north of the Woburn line on Main St., at approximately 1:50 a.m. on March 31. The truck was struck on the left side by the automobile. Nesky, operator of the car was taken to Woburn Hospital by motorists. The extent of his injuries is not known. Officer Guoco investigated.

Alton Reynolds In Accident

At 4:15 p.m. on Thursday, March 29 a truck operated by Alton C. Reynolds of Woburn St., and a car operated by Miss Frances Cleveland of Burlington Ave., were involved in a head on collision on Burlington Ave. Slight damage was reported to both vehicles. Officer Markey investigated.

CRUSADER STILL NUMBER ONE IN CIRCULATION AND RESULTS

In a recent copy of the "Town Crier" we read an article of The Tale of the Merchant and the Babu. Although we could make no sense of the story, a comment at the end of the story did attract our attention. Seems as though we were told we should use the ABC (Audit Bureau of Circulation) to prove our circulation claims. We would be pleased if the ABC did check our claims, for we know they would uphold them, but what the "Crier" didn't mention was that, to have the ABC check circulation figures, one must first be a member of the ABC. (Note: The Town Crier is another which does not belong to this organization.) However we do feel that a certified public accountant can do as good a job and we are just as sure they are trustworthy.

Also, speaking of the "Town Crier", a comment (Unsolicited) heard recently comes to mind. An ad was placed in the "Crier" by a gentleman who had services to perform for the town, and for which the town is in dire need. After waiting a week, and not getting so much as ONE call, the gentleman decided to place his ad in the Crusader. Action truly speaks louder than words.

Stanley J. Bocko, Publisher

During Monday night's Selectmen's meeting a letter from Atty. Flora Kasabowski of Tewksbury was read. Mrs. Kasabowski stated, in short that if Wilmington doesn't do something about its parking problem soon it will become a ghost town when Tewksbury's new shopping center is opened for business. This new center is expected to open before the summer is over.

Application was received from Joseph Balestrieri for a permit to purchase firearm. It was decided that the board would grant this permit, only if Police Chief Lynch deemed it necessary. Mr. Balestrieri is a special policeman.

A letter was received from the fire chief stating that he had inspected the property on Swain Rd., West about which a complaint had been made. Mr. Boudreau's letter stated that he found the building located on this site to be a fire hazard. It was moved to have Mr. Courtney direct Mr. Boudreau to remove the hazard if possible.

Request was received from John Elia of North Wilmington to increase his storage capacity for gasoline from 1500 gallons to 2000. Public hearing on this request will be held on April 16 at 8:30. With the mention of Mr. Elia, came a question from Mr. Black regarding the traffic conditions in North Wilmington around train time in the evening. It was decided that and officer should be on duty there around six o'clock to help keep this traffic moving. Possibilities for off-street parking in this area were also discussed. Mr. Elia is considering the use of a parcel of land owned by him for this purpose. During this discussion Mr. DeFelice referred to John Elia as being one of the most cooperative businessmen in town.

Mr. Hagerty brought up the question of recreation areas in the town. He feels that the town should buy land for this purpose now before the price gets too high. This caused a slightly heated discussion during which it was stated that the recreation commission was already considering this problem. Mr. Hagerty further stated that any playgrounds now in use were only accessible to school age children who were capable of traveling over the streets alone. Mr. DeFelice answered that when you provide playground facilities for the children under school age (3-6) you are merely providing a baby-sitting service for someone's wife. Mrs. Drew said that she felt that when people moved to the country it was because (or partly because) there would be plenty of room in the back yards for the children to play. After some deliberation it was decided to write the recreation committee regarding the matter.

Some little time was given to the subject of snow-removal; especially on the sidewalks. It was stated by the editor of another newspaper that firemen will not shovel the walk in front of the police station half of the building because it belongs to the police dept. It was further stated that firemen would rather have their chief walk through the snow than shovel it away for policemen.

TELEPHONE PROGRESS

During the evening of Mar. 14, through the courtesy of Wilmington's New England Telephone & Telegraph Agent, Robert Michelson, the Lions Club members of Wilmington were given the opportunity of listening to two fine speakers. Both men represented the telephone office in Lowell. Robert Lucier was the Commercial Representative and Daniel J. O'Brien, Jr. represented the Communication Engineer's Department.

Mr. O'Brien made it known that the Telephone Company has many films available that may be borrowed by any Club or organization. The films are not only entertaining but educational.

He also indicated that it will not be too long before Wilmington residents can have their phone service changed to the type they desire whenever the desire arises. Waiting lists will no longer be needed. Also, in the near future, Wilmington will operate out of the Malden exchange for better toll service. That does not mean that the local exchange will include the areas between Wilmington and Malden.

Mr. O'Brien stated that the Telephone Company is spending $2,000,000 a week on construction in order to meet the demand. It is assumed that by 1960 almost all towns and cities will be using dial phones. The year 1960 will usher in customer dialing service with respect to long-distance calls. One will be able to call California without the need of an operator by just dialing a series of code numbers. This form of code dialing will be recorded on a tape so that the customer can be charged properly. The tape, which will be located at an exchange, will record such things as follows: Number of phone doing the calling, time of call, number being called, time that conversation began, and time that conversation ended. The tapes will be processed by machines similar to the IBM type. This new method of calling will not necessitate personnel being put out of work.

Through the use of a mechanical button, messages were received and given even though the receiver was placed where it would normally be when the phone is not in use. This type of phone makes it possible for one to give and receive information while standing about fifteen feet away from the phone, such as would be the case if a clerk was looking up data in a file drawer. It also makes it possible for more than one person to be in on the conversation, if it is so desired.

The phone can also be used privately, as we use it today. As one of the titles indicates, both hands are free to take messages.

The Lions members placed calls to New York, Florida, California, Michigan, and to other sections of the country. They were quite impressed with the new device.

... and the little children prayed

Folks,

May I take a few moments of your time to tell you a story about a little boy? It's a true story and it's about a little Wilmington boy and a miracle... a miracle that may be unfolding itself right under your very own noses. You and I may never live to witness anything like it again!

Buddy Googins is the little boy I want to tell you about and he is the eldest in a family of three little boys. One of his little brothers is three and the other - - scarcely nine months old. Well, folks, Buddy had just about reached his eighth birthday, a few months ago, and was getting along fine in the third grade at the Buzzell School, when very suddenly a dreadful tragedy struck into his little classroom and his family! For Buddy, who had been having "headaches" of late, was suddenly stricken with such intense pain one day that he had to be rushed out of his classroom and into the Massachusetts General Hospital. And there the tragic story began to unfold.

Because at the hospital it was discovered that this helpless little feller had fallen victim to one of the dreaded of all the vicious children's diseases - - Buddy had a brain tumor!! After a careful diagnosis, it was decided that little, if anything, could be done for Buddy, except to wait, as the days drifted by, for that inevitable day that always comes - - and usually quite soon - - in such cases.

And so - - Buddy's mom and dad had to resign themselves to losing their first little boy - - and his little brothers were to be separated from him before they were hardly old enough to understand the meaning of it all - - this dreadful tragedy that was happening in their midst. And, on top of this, hospital bills had run up during early attempts to save little Buddy's life by delicate brain surgery. And Buddy's dad a carpenter, naturally did not find himself so well fortified financially as to be able to withstand such unforeseen medical bills - - any more than most of us could.

Well, anyway folks, one day some nice folks decided to try to do something to help brighten up what was left of Buddy's lonely little life at the hospital, and so they asked him if there was anything in particular that he would like to have and like any red-blooded little boy - - he came up with wanting to shake hands with a real honest-to-goodness, live cowboy. And so, on one fine Sunday afternoon a real honest-to-goodness, live cowboy showed up and spent the day entertaining little Buddy at his bedside. Later on some other nice folks took up a dime collection amongst the children at the Mildred Rogers School and they bought Buddy a little cowboy suit. (Wasn't that nice?)

And so it went, from day to day, as everybody close to the situation waited week after week, day after day, and hour upon hour - - for the inevitable bad news.

And then, folks, something quite unusual and unexpected took place back home in our little town of Wilmington. It was the occasion of the annual banquet of the three Wilmington cub-scout packs. And, after the dinner, these little boys were listening to their leaders and guests talk to them about scouting, good-citizenship, etc. But one of the guests, who couldn't get little Buddy Googins off his mind, as he watched all those other little boys enjoying themselves, talked to them a little bit about little Buddy. (without mentioning his name). He told them that there was "a little boy, who many of them knew, and that he was very, very sick - - and that he needed all the help he could get, if he was ever going to get well again - - and that he needed their help too! And so, he asked all those little boys if they would stand up for just one minute and pray, as a group, for "this sick little boy" so that he might be well again and be able to play and have fun just as they play and have fun.

Well, folks, words cannot describe that banquet hall as every one of those little boys stood up there - - yes, all 242 of them! And, as a poll of absolute silence descended upon that noisy banquet hall, each little boy, in his own little way, prayed to our good Lord for little Buddy Googins! There they stood - - little Protestant, - little Jewish - and little Catholic boys - - all together and all praying to the one God above them all, for their little schoolmate. Yes, that minute of silence was indescribable, as those little guys (your little guys, folks) stood up, stood still, and offered up genuine, earnest, little prayers for a little boy whose name they did not know but "who needed their help and needed it now!" Like so many unplanned and unheard events, this one "stopped the show" and left every grown-up agasp, breathless, awe stricken - - and many discovered that a trace of a tear had worked its way into his eyes during that silent moment of little prayers.

Meanwhile, it had been planned to have a great big kiddies party in Wilmington (with Buddy as the guest of honor). Buddy's doctors agreed to release him for one day and the whole idea was to cheer Buddy up a little more and, if possible, to collect a little bit of money for his dad for hospital bills, etc. So, a gala kiddies party was planned - - with cowboys, indians, kiddies movies, music, free refreshments - - and all the things that little folks like. It was also planned, hopefully, that each and every kid-die in the town would be able to come and share the fun with little Buddy Googins. The folks who run the American Legion, the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been working together to make this not only a bang-up party for the children but also a profitable one for Buddy's dad. So won't you please bring your little folks to Legion Hall this Saturday at 2 P.M. and let them have fun with little Buddy Googins? It'll only cost you a few cents donation at the door, if you don't already have a ticket, and everything else including refreshments will be "on the house".

for little Buddy are now well under way, reports have begun to trickle back to Wilmington from the Massachusetts General Hospital that little Buddy seems to be doing the unheard of thing - - he appears to be GETTING WELL!!! (It's still a bit early to become too optimistic - - but hospital reports continue to get more rosy with every passing day. And now Buddy is even being permitted to remain at home with his mom and dad and those two little baby brothers of his. Only periodically, is he being taken back to the hospital for observation and treatment. Now, what do you think of that, folks?)

Folks, won't you please say a prayer for this little guy. Right now! Please don't read another word until you have taken a moment or two to pray for little Buddy, as you would have his folks pray for one of the little fellers if the situation were to be reversed. Let's all pray - that his doctors will continue to be dumbfounded by his apparent amazing recovery. And in your prayers, folks, please remember all those little men - - those little cub-scouts - - who more likely than not, set the stage for what appears to be a miracle right in our own back yard.

As Always,

MABEL

188 Main St.

P.S. Don't forget this Saturday at 2 P.M. - American Legion Hall and the Selectmen of Wilmington have declared it to be Buddy Googins Day.

DOWN'S FARM HAS STRANGE VISITORS

Recently when we visited the Downs Farm at Perry's Corner, we were invited to enter the barn and meet the new guest, who may or may not become a permanent resident. In one of the stalls, sits an animal which we at first thought to be a donkey, long floppy ears and all. However when we asked we were informed that this was a true Brahmar Bull who had been transported from Florida and would remain here for an indefinite period. Perhaps this breed is common to some but it seemed to merit mentioning.

TELEPHONE PROGRESS

During the evening of Mar. 14, through the courtesy of Wilmington's New England Telephone & Telegraph Agent, Robert Michelson, the Lions Club members of Wilmington were given the opportunity of listening to two fine speakers. Both men represented the telephone office in Lowell. Robert Lucier was the Commercial Representative and Daniel J. O'Brien, Jr. represented the Communication Engineer's Department.

Mr. O'Brien made it known that the Telephone Company has many films available that may be borrowed by any Club or organization. The films are not only entertaining but educational.

He also indicated that it will not be too long before Wilmington residents can have their phone service changed to the type they desire whenever the desire arises. Waiting lists will no longer be needed. Also, in the near future, Wilmington will operate out of the Malden exchange for better toll service. That does not mean that the local exchange will include the areas between Wilmington and Malden.

Mr. O'Brien stated that the Telephone Company is spending $2,000,000 a week on construction in order to meet the demand. It is assumed that by 1960 almost all towns and cities will be using dial phones. The year 1960 will usher in customer dialing service with respect to long-distance calls. One will be able to call California without the need of an operator by just dialing a series of code numbers. This form of code dialing will be recorded on a tape so that the customer can be charged properly. The tape, which will be located at an exchange, will record such things as follows: Number of phone doing the calling, time of call, number being called, time that conversation began, and time that conversation ended. The tapes will be processed by machines similar to the IBM type. This new method of calling will not necessitate personnel being put out of work.

The telephone representatives gave each member of the Club the opportunity of placing long-distance telephone calls free of charge through the use of the new device called the "Hands Free Telephone," or the "Speaker Phone."

Through the use of a mechanical button, messages were received and given even though the receiver was placed where it would normally be when the phone is not in use. This type of phone makes it possible for one to give and receive information while standing about fifteen feet away from the phone, such as would be the case if a clerk was looking up data in a file drawer. It also makes it possible for more than one person to be in on the conversation, if it is so desired.

The phone can also be used privately, as we use it today. As one of the girls indicates, both hands are free to take messages.

The Lions members placed calls to New York, Florida, California, Michigan, and to other sections of the country. They were quite impressed with the new device.

- - - and the little children prayed

Folks,

May I take a few moments of your time to tell you a story about a little boy? It's a true story and it's about a little Wilmington boy and a miracle... a miracle that may be unfolding itself right under your very own noses. You and I may never live to witness anything like it again!

Buddy Googins is the little boy I want to tell you about and he is the eldest in a family of three little boys. One of his little brothers is three and the other - - scarcely nine months old. Well, folks, Buddy had just about reached his eighth birthday, a few months ago, and was getting along fine in the third grade at the Buzzell School, when very suddenly a dreadful tragedy struck into his little classroom and his family! For Buddy, who had been having "headaches" of late, was suddenly stricken with such intense pain one day that he had to be rushed out of his classroom and into the Massachusetts General Hospital. And there the tragic story began to unfold.

Because at the hospital it was discovered that this helpless little feller had fallen victim to one of the dreaded of all of the vicious children's diseases - - Buddy had a brain tumor!! After a careful diagnosis, it was decided that little, if anything, could be done for Buddy, except to wait, as the days drifted by, for that inevitable day that always comes - - and usually quite soon - - in such cases.

And so - - Buddy's mom and dad had to resign themselves to losing their first little boy - - and his little brothers were to be separated from him before they were hardly old enough to understand the meaning of it all - - this dreadful tragedy that was happening in their midst. And, on top of this, hospital bills had run up during early attempts to save little Buddy's life by delicate brain surgery. And Buddy's dad a carpenter, naturally did not find himself so well fortified financially as to be able to withstand such unforeseen medical bills - - any more than most of us could.

Well, anyway folks, one day some nice folks decided to try to do something to help brighten up what was left of Buddy's lonely little life at the hospital, and so they asked him if there was anything in particular that he would like to have and like any red-blooded little boy - - he came up with wanting to shake hands with a real honest-to-goodness, live cowboy. And so, on one fine Sunday afternoon a real honest-to-goodness, live cowboy showed up and spent the day entertaining little Buddy at his bedside. Later on some other nice folks took up a dime collection amongst the children at the Mildred Rogers School and they bought Buddy a little cowboy suit. (Wasn't that nice?)

And so it went, from day to day, as everybody close to the situation waited week after week, day after day, and hour upon hour - - for the inevitable bad news.

And then, folks, something quite unusual and unexpected took place back home in our little town of Wilmington. It was the occasion of the annual banquet of the three Wilmington cub-scout packs. And, after the dinner, these little boys were listening to their leaders and guests talk to them about scouting, good-citizenship, etc. But one of the guests, who couldn't get little Buddy Googins off his mind, as he watched all those other little boys enjoying themselves, talked to them a little bit about little Buddy. (without mentioning his name). He told them that there was "a little boy, who many of them knew, and that he was very, very sick - - and that he needed all the help he could get, if he was ever going to get well again - - and that he needed their help too! And so, he asked all those little boys if they would stand up for just one minute and pray, as a group, for "this sick little boy" so that he might be well again and be able to play and have fun just as they play and have fun.

Well, folks, words cannot describe that banquet hall as every one of those little boys stood up there - - yes, all 242 of them! And, as a poll of absolute silence descended upon that noisy banquet hall, each little boy, in his own little way, prayed to our good Lord for little Buddy Googins! There they stood - - little Protestant - - little Jewish - - and little Catholic boys - - all together and all praying to the one God above them all, for their little schoolmate. Yes, that minute of silence was indescribable, as those little guys (your little guys, folks) stood up, stood still, and offered up genuine, earnest, little prayers for a little boy whose name they did not know but "who needed their help and needed it now!" Like so many unplanned and unheard events, this one "stopped the show" and left every grown-up agasp, breathless, awe stricken - - and many discovered that a trace of a tear had worked its way into his eyes during that silent moment of little prayers.

Meanwhile, it had been planned to have a great big kiddies party in Wilmington (with Buddy as the guest of honor). Buddy's doctors agreed to release him for one day and the whole idea was to cheer Buddy up a little more and, if possible, to collect a little bit of money for his dad for hospital bills, etc. So, a gala kiddies party was planned - - with cowboys, indians, kiddies movies, music, free refreshments - - and all the things that little folks like. It was also planned, hopefully, that each and every kid die in the town would be able to come and share the fun with little Buddy Googins. The folks who run the American Legion, the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been working together to make this not only a bang-up party for the children but also a profitable one for Buddy's dad. So won't you please bring your little folks to Legion Hall this Saturday at 2 P.M. and let them have fun with little Buddy Googins? It'll only cost you a few cents donation at the door, if you don't already have a ticket, and everything else including refreshments will be "on the house".

for little Buddy are now well under way, reports have begun to trickle back to Wilmington from the Massachusetts General Hospital that little Buddy seems to be doing the unheard of thing - - he appears to be GETTING WELL!!! (It's still a bit early to become too optimistic - - but hospital reports continue to get more rosy with every passing day. And now Buddy is even being permitted to remain at home with his mom and dad and those two little baby brothers of his. Only periodically, is he being taken back to the hospital for observation and treatment. Now, what do you think of that, folks?)

Folks, won't you please say a prayer for this little guy. Right now! Please don't read another word until you have taken a moment or two to pray for little Buddy, as you would have his folks pray for one of the little fellers if the situation were, to be reversed. Let's all pray - that his doctors will continue to be dumbfounded by his apparent amazing recovery. And in your prayers, folks, please remember all those little men - - those little cub-scouts - - who more likely, than not, set the stage for what appears to be a miracle right in our own back yard.

As Always,

MABEL

HEALTH FOR ALL Sulphur and Molasses

In Grandmother's day, this was the season for sulphur and molasses. The whole family would line up to swallow spoonfuls of the horrid medicine from the big brown bottle. This was supposed to build up blood thinned by the long winter and protect against the hazards of spring.

Maybe a stiff dose of sulphur and molasses could temporarily jolt an adolescent out of the day dreaming that goes with the season.
 Probably it had no other useful effect. But Grandmother wasn't far wrong. Spring does have its special hazards, and stern measures are often necessary to deal with them.

This is the season of spring colds, brought on by man's eternal optimism. We all know that beautiful April skies can turn gray and pour down drenching rain within an hour. We know that temperatures can go up & down like a see-saw. But who prepares for such weather? We expect and dress for nothing but the best. Women shiver in their new spring coats and slosh through puddles in open-toed shoes. The farmer can't stop his ploughing and run for cover with every shower. The small boy loses his rubbers. His older sister wouldn't be caught dead with an umbrella.

Mother can't spend all her time chasing after these delinquents. She might as well take it for granted that they will be foolish, and try to build up their natural resistance to colds. She can see to it that every member of the family is getting a proper diet, replete with the "protective" foods: milk, eggs, meat, green vegetables. She can make sure that everyone is getting enough sleep. If one member of the family seems "run down" and complains of tiredness, a visit to the doctor is in order. Children with colds should be kept at home. A day of quiet rest will usually ward off serious developments.

Too soon spring will pass.
 We owe it to ourselves to be in condition to enjoy every

BOWLING LEAGUE

The Wilmington Town Bowling League met for their 28th and final week of bowling for the 1956 season and the results were as follows.

Benny's Radio took 4 points from the 8th place Buck Bros. and so wind up in 1st place. The Dodgers took 4 points from the 7th place North End and finished in 2nd place. The Boosters rolled a 3 points win over the 2nd place Knickerbockers to jump ahead of the Knicks into the 3rd place money while the Knicks dropped into 4th place money for the season. The Spoilers ended up in 5th while the West End finished 6th, North End in 7th and Buck Bros. in 8th to wind up the season.

The match of the year was the one rolled between the Knickerbockers and the Boosters. Both teams needed a 3 point win to take over third place and it was a battle right down to the last ball rolled. This match is still in question as to the final outcome as the Boosters thought they lost, but found that a spare was not added in correctly and so it did change a loss into a win for the Boosters. Both team captains were shown the sheet but the Knickerbockers were not about to believe it even though it was in black and white but for now yours truly will take it as he sees it and let them thrash it out themselves.

Benny's Radio came thru on the final night and took the High Team Single from the Spoilers who had held it for 17 weeks with a cool 555 but Bennys boys were hot and hit a 561 to take the prize. The Dodgers held on to their High Team Triple of 1578 to take the Stan Riley took High Individual Average for the season with a cool 102.61. J. Edgar Hoover, an authority on crime if there ever was one, has placed the blame for juvenile delinquency squarely on the parent. He said: "The regrettable fact is that the irresponsible parents who neglect their duty continue to do so because they are not held responsible for their dereliction. . . The startling crime conditions existing today reflect that in America the home is failing in its traditional function as the first and foremost classroom—a place of learning how to live as well as a place of living."

1955 NICKEL OUTLOOK

Based on available information it is estimated that free world nickel production this year should approximate $15,000,000 pounds, compared with an estimated output of 390,000,000 pounds in 1954. It is expected, after satisfying defense requirements and deliveries to government stockpiles under present schedules, more nickel will be available to free world industry for civilian applications in 1955 than was the case in 1954.

DUCTILE IRONS

The ductile irons are a family of cast metals. Since first produced commercially in 1949, they have established themselves as important engineering materials. Ductile irons have the processing advantages of cast iron—good fluidity and castability, ready machinability and low melting point—combined with many of the engineering advantages of steel—good strength, toughness, wear resistance and substantial ductility.

NICKEL IN THE JET AGE

The Jet Age brought with it a need for "super" materials with hitherto unavailable combination of strength, ductility and resistance to heat, and in some cases resistance to special types of corrosion. Alloys containing nickel have met these stringent requirements. Virtually all of the special alloys developed for airplane gas turbines or jet engines in the past 15 years contain nickel. The nickel content of these alloys ranges from less than 10 per cent in stainless steels to more than 70 per cent in certain complex alloys.

Excitement on the high seas:

Pete Leavitt of Hathaway Acres, with shipmate Charlie Walsh of Aldrich Rd., participated in a daring and thrilling rescue at sea recently. Both boys are sailors on the U.S.C.G. Cutter Castle Rock out of Boston. They ship to sea for several weeks at a time, patrolling the waters of the North Atlantic in areas where civil and service airplanes span the particular stretch of water between North America and Europe. This type of duty is called "Damage Patrol" and means, patrolling waters where planes might possibly crash land. This body of water is considered dangerous and must be patrolled constantly. The sailors are carefully trained in all phases of rescue work with emphasis on launching of rescue boats, first aid and the towing of disabled craft.

While on watch an S.O.S. was received by the Castle Rock. The distress signal was from a foundering Swedish freighter out of Liverpool bound for Halifax, N.S., real trouble was indicated because of a disabled rudder. The Cutter reached the stricken vessel that was hopelessly wallowing in the turbulent waters, secured a tow line and started towing the craft towards, Halifax. While enroute a sailor from the Castle Rock was stricken by acute appendicitis and needed an immediate operation. A distress message to the Canadian Royal Air Force got results and 15 miles from Halifax a helicopter was landed on the after deck, the sailor was transferred and flown to the nearest hospital in Halifax. After this task the cutter sailed back to the freighter secured her and brought her into the port of the Canadian city. This rescue started on a Tuesday afternoon and did not end until Friday afternoon and ac-

According to you Leavitt it was something he will never forget. On the 30th of April Pete will return to sea for another Damage Patrol.

It makes the difference:

Two small boys dropped into Taste Rite Donut shop in Tewksbury, ordered two of the delicious honey dipped donuts and milk, put their grimy hands side by side on the counter top and this conversation took place.

"Mine's dirtier'n yours, exclaimed one, triumphantly. "Huh!" said the other disdainfully, "Your two years older'n me."

Bright future:

Young Earl Baldwin of Ballardvale St. is leaving Wilmington. Earl has been signed to a baseball contract by Jack Onslow a Red Sox Scout, and leaves Sunday morning for Oakland, Calif. where he will show his wares. Oakland, while not a Sox farm club, has a working agreement with them, and young hopefuls get a taste of ball as played by ex-major leaguers and potentials. Earl will be remembered for his many victories as a port sider for the High School and later as a flinger with the town team, the Ramblers. This youngster is the first potential big leaguer to be signed in recent years from Wilmington and all of us wish him the best of luck. From The Boston Daily Globe

Though flood waters were only inches deep near Bedford, Ky., a man decided to take no chances with his family's safety. He tied a rope around his waist, then around the waists of his wife and children. They started off the front porch with the father in the lead. He tripped and fell into the drink, yanking the whole group after him.

OLD AGE NEWS

Those who are permanently disabled should file to protest their SS standing

Miss Ethel Eliopoulos, District Manager of the Lowell Social Security Office has some news of importance for people who have worked at least five years under social security and who, because of a disability, have not been able to work for six months or more, according to an announcement she made today.

"The Social Security Act now permits us to keep the benefit rights intact of a person who is disabled before age 65 and who is unable to work because of his disability," she explained. "To qualify for this so-called 'disability freeze,' a person must have worked under social security for at least five years out of the ten years before he became disabled and one and a half years of the three years before he became disabled. The disability must have existed for more than six months and a person must be disabled at the time he files application for the 'disability freeze'."

"Anyone now receiving a social security payment on his own earnings record may have his benefit refigured to exclude a period of disability. If he is now disabled and the disability was in existence for more than six months before he reached age 65," she continued. "Of course, he must meet the work requirement of five years out of ten and one and a half years out of three years as set out above."

"People who are now disabled and unable to work or anyone who becomes disabled in the future should contact his nearest social security office in order to learn how the 'disability freeze' may protect him," she said. "If you are unable to contact us yourself, a friend or relative may do it for you. A period of disability cannot be established unless an application is filed with the social security office."

AAA GROWING

'56 in '56 describes the new membership record of the Boston Automobile Club, R. S. Kretschmar, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Division of the AAA, reported today. "Yesterday, the Club officially exceeded the 56,000 member mark. This is a great tribute to the economic vitality of Massachusetts," Kretschmar said.

The Boston Automobile Club, local unit of the American Automobile Association, has had a remarkable growth since World War II. In 1946, it had 6,000 members. Today, it has 56,000. In 1946 it ranked 87th in size among the 770 AAA units in the country. Today, it is 13th and still growing.

The six AAA Clubs in Massachusetts now have a total membership of 125,000. Nationwide, the AAA has over five million members.

The Boston Automobile Club was founded in 1904 at a meeting held in a garage at 74 Stanhope St., Boston. There were seven original members who established a civic, non-profit corporation for the purpose of "promoting social activities for owners and operators of self-propelled pleasure vehicles; promoting the development of motor carriages; cooperating in securing proper rules and regulations governing their use in cities and country; protecting the interests of owners and users of automobiles against unjust or unreasonable legislation; maintaining the lawful privileges of owners or users of all forms of self-propelled vehicles whenever such rights are menaced; and promoting and encouraging in all ways the construction and maintenance of good roads and improvements of highways."

Today, the principles and objectives of the organization are basically the same. A group of prominent civic leaders serve, without pay, as the Advisory Board. They are: Hon. Richard S. Bowers, former State Senator and prominent attorney; Dr. Alexander Brin, Editor, Jewish Advocate Publishing Co.; Joseph Dawson, Jr., President, Knowles Loom Reed Works, New Bedford; Professor Dean A. Fales, Research Fellow, M.I.T.; Vernon B. Hitchins, Vice President, Second Bank-State St. Trust; Alden B. Hoag, Chief Editorial Writer, Boston Herald; Otto A. Lawton, well-known Boston automobile dealer for many years; Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, Chancellor of Boston University; Gen. Daniel Needham, prominent Boston attorney; P. A. O'Connell, President, E. T. Slattery Company; Glenwood J. Sherrard, President, Parker House, and Alfred R. Thackeray, Executive Secretary of the New Bedford Board of Commerce.

SAFETY TIP: Recognize a DANGER CUE when you see one? asks the AAA. A rural mailbox means there's a driveway nearby. Slow down for possible traffic entering your lane from that driveway. The best drivers are the ones who know the danger cues.

MAGNETOSTRICTION
 The fact that nickel changes in length when it is magnetized has brought about a growing industrial application of the principles of magnetostriction. This property of nickel is applied in high-frequency industrial cutting tools, burglar alarms, sonic depth-finding equipment and submarine detection apparatus and related devices for locating schools of fish.

NEW IRON ORE RECOVERY PLANT

The first unit of an operation which will ultimately recover about 1,000,000 tons of high-grade iron ore annually from the company's nickel-copper ore deposits in the Sudbury District, the plant will use an atmospheric pressure ammonia leaching process developed by Inco.

McKELVEY'S EDUCATIONAL FACTS Massachusetts

Massachusetts. A north Atlantic state of the United States, Massachusetts was the sixth state to ratify the federal constitution. It was admitted to the union on Feb. 6, 1788. Its popular name is the "Baystate" derived from its earlier title "the Colony of Massachusetts Bay" (1629-30) Area: 8,257 sq. mi., including 350 square miles of water. Population: (1950 census) 4,690,514 of which 84% was urban; (July 1955 est.) 4,972,000. The capital is Boston (1950 pop.): 801,444; other important cities are Worcester 203,486; Springfield, 162,399; Cambridge, 120,740; Fall River, 111,963; New Bedford, 109,189; Somerville, 102,351; Lynn 99,738; Lowell, 97,249; Quincy, 83,835; Newton 81,994; Lawrence, 80,536.

McKELVEY'S EDUCATIONAL FACTS United States Veterans:

The population of veterans reached 22,000,000 in October 1955. Of these, 80% or 15,400,000 served in World War II; 4,000,000 were in uniform during the period between the start of the Korean conflict, June 27, 1950 and Jan. 31, 1955 and the rest served in other wars and during the time of peace.

The principal American Veterans organizations are as follows.

American Legion:

The American Legion reported at the beginning of the year a membership of 2,797,000. Its 37th annual convention, held in Miami, Fla., in October, was attended by 3,164 accredited delegates and about 40,000 others. J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, Mich., was elected national commander. The convention gained much newspaper attention and editorial criticism when it passed a resolution calling for a congressional investigation of UNESCO.

The Legion continued its primary emphasis on veteran's benefits, and pressed on with its "New Glory for Old Glory" campaign, dedicated to increase display of the U.S. Flag as the symbol of liberty, and its "Back to God" program, designed to help reaffirm traditional moral and spiritual values. Concern for national defense and for the danger of subversion continued, in 1955, to be among the Legion's major interests. The organization's national headquarters are in Indianapolis, Ind. Veterans of Foreign Wars:

Timothy J. Murphy of Boston, Mass., was elected commander in chief of the V.F.W. at its 56th national encampment held in Boston in Aug. 1955. Membership was reported at about the same as the previous year, or 1,200,000. The objectives of the V.F.W. remained the administration hospital and same: to expand Veterans medical programs; to strengthen veteran preference in federal employment; to use vigilance in combating communist infiltration and subversion in all areas of American life; to adopt universal military training; to concern itself with construction of highways, schools, hospitals and other projects in the public interest.

Disabled American Veterans

The D.A.V. is devoted exclusively to the care of the war disabled, whether or not they are members of the organization. In 1955 it had a life membership of 70,000 and a total membership of 200,000—the highest in its history. Its new national commander was "the blind general," Maj. Gen. Melvin J. Mass, U.S.M.C. Its 1955 convention was held in Des Moines, Iowa, in August. Convention delegates reaffirmed the D.A.V.'s traditional national program of "advancing the interests of America's war disabled and their dependents. To be eligible for membership in the Disabled American Veterans you must have a service connected disability guaranteed by the U.S. Veterans Bureau. The D.A.V. no doubt about it has the world largest Life Membership. Its membership Service Connected Disabled Veterans receive Compensation not Pension. This service connected compensation is for wounds, disease and disabilities of sources received in direct line of duty while serving our country the United States.

TRIPLE-A FIELDMEN FUME AS FRYING FAT FLIES FURIOUSLY

"American professional cooks lack originality; they want to fry everything!" That's the complaint of American Automobile Association Field Reporters, the men who spend their lives checking on restaurants, accommodations, and roads for the nation's motorists.

Fewer than one percent of all the restaurants available are up to high enough standards for listing in the AAA

Accommodations Directories. The Triple-A gives these major reasons: lack of varied menus; failure to offer good service; no emphasis on a wholesome and inviting atmosphere; the yen to "fry everything;" professional cooks with little imagination. Motorist will eat mostly fried foods during their trips this season, unless they protest, the AAA says.

TRAVEL TIP: Break up your trip with frequent stops, suggests the AAA. Long travel on modern highways can get monotonous. The steady drone of the motor on a straight road often causes drowsiness, top often for exercise.
